| Teaching methodsLectures are oral and are performed in the amphitheater. Exercises are performed in groups in classrooms: (1) as oral, where the topics from the lecture are explained in more detail and international trade contracts are analyzed; (2) as demonstrations, to present international trade arbitration, examples from practice, etc.; and (3) as discussions on topics from the covered material. All methods involve interactive participation of students.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |       |                                |                              |
