

Table 5.2. Course Specification
Study programme: First-cycle academic studies of the first level – Law
Course title: Foreign Language of the Legal Profession – English Language 2
Instructor(s): Snežana G. Moretić-Mičić
Course status: Compulsory, second year, third semester
ECTS: 5
Prerequisites: None
Course Aim The primary aim of the course is to master legal terminology in the areas of civil law, business and labour law, and international law through a comparative approach to legal systems (Anglo-American and continental), social-communicative competencies and basic legal skills for future professional needs (case analysis, reasoned expression of views, development of analytical abilities, constructive and critical thinking, responding in social situations) and interpersonal skills (through teamwork in problem-solving through analysis, discussion, comparative analysis and evaluation, synthesis and drawing conclusions). Acquisition of the grammatical, lexical and orthographic minimum of the language and development of automated skills in using English as a means of communication, deepening comprehension, speaking, reading and writing (active and passive knowledge of English). Level of knowledge equivalent to a B1/B2 foreign language certificate.
Learning Outcomes The student will be trained to understand, explain or define legal concepts and processes, interpret schematic representations/tables/images, and apply appropriate legal terminology in discussions, analyses or problem-solving; to express an opinion and provide a reasoned explanation of their position in oral or written form; and to respond appropriately in basic social situations (expressing opinions, agreement/disagreement; giving advice; reasoned argumentation of positions and proposals; comparative analysis of advantages/disadvantages in a legal environment). Students will maintain the productive knowledge of English acquired in previous stages of learning and will be able to express themselves independently within topics related to their professional field. Upon passing the exam, the student is able to understand the content of standard business correspondence and to follow texts from the relevant professional field at a satisfactory level.
Course Content Theoretical instruction 1. Property law; 2. Intellectual property law; 3. Contract law; 4. Labour law; 5. Business, corporate, commercial and financial law; 6. Alternative dispute resolution; 7. International law; 8. Academic writing: structure of a scientific article and writing an abstract/summary. The English language course prepares students for participation in international legal communication, the development of language skills (speaking, listening, reading and writing), and the ability to use specific language structures and functions in a business environment. Acquisition of the relevant vocabulary, specialist lexis, most frequent collocations and phrases equips students to follow specialist literature. Practical instruction Exercises complementary to lectures. Preparation for colloquia and the exam. Evaluation of the covered material and analysis of teaching results.
